| Learning Aims          | Learn how we, as data product owners and managers in PEC, are bringing our data product strategy to life by focusing on business outcomes and delivering value. All whilst we build a lab, transition to the cloud and embed an Agile framework!                                                                                                                                                           |                        |                                    |
| Key skills             | • Build a data lab whilst the plane is in flight! • Define a group-aligned, platform data strategy • Develop data product visions and canvases • Collaborate across business, data and technology teams to realise objectives in a large and complex organisation • Translate data and technology speak into tangible business outcomes • Lead and motivate a team with varying data skills and experience |                        |                                    |
| Outcomes               | Discover how to design a platform data strategy, and build and lead a data lab through data and platform transformation. Learn how to effectively address stakeholder needs by clearly defining the product vision and roadmap, seamlessly integrating strategy with data and technology, and achieving value through rapid development.                                                                   |                        |                                    |
| CPD Points/Hours       | 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                        |                                    |
